Better business for dentists

Radiography and Digital Imaging Product Guide

Featuring in the April 2012 edition of Bite magazine

In April 2012, Bite magazine will publish a special Product Guide exploring the latest developments in radiography and digital imaging products and services available for the dental industry.

The format will be designed to showcase available products and give you the space to educate our readers about the benefits of your product or service.

For each advertisement bought, we will layout the same space for you with supplied copy and images to showcase your offering in more detail.

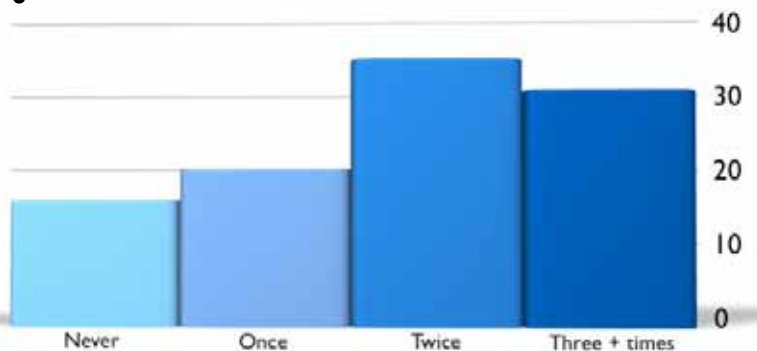

Don't miss this annual opportunity to be part of our radiography and digital imaging Product Guide. Contact Mark via any of the numbers or email below to explore how Bite can work with you to promote your business.

7,736 copies distributed nationally every month
